

Not Everybody Makes It

The story of a young mans struggle to make it in the world of showbusiness. From the Blitz in London to the early years in Islington, then National Service. The journey then goes up North to the working mens clubs, back to London, cabaret in the West End and an appearance at the London Palladium. Its a showbiz story, an easy read that will entertain and amuse and a story people in and out of the business could relate to. Very interesting indeed, particularly to those who have realised that unlike the lives of film and television stars, celebrated actors and notorious pop music personalities, nothing significant has ever been written about jobbing entertainers PETER HEPPLER THE STAGE All of the proceeds from sales of this book are donated to The Alzheimers Society.
